Agents insight:

" This four bedroom detached home is within easy access to the town centre which means you don't need to use the car every time you leave the house. It has a spacious feel and the two en-suites makes it ideal for visitors to feel welcome. There is an added bonus of a study, as so many people now work from home, it doesn't take away from your living space. The double garage is great to have one car tucked away and still leave space for storage or a workshop. With so much to offer, we highly recommend a viewing on this one."
