THE LOCATION

Trelil Lane lies on the outskirts of Budock Water village, off the country road that leads to Mawnan Smith village and the Helford River beyond. Trelil Barn is situated at the bottom of the Lane, bearing right, where the barn and development site is tucked into the corner of the adjacent field. It is a delightful and unspoilt rural setting next to fields and countryside, yet just a few minutes walk to the village centre. Budock Water has a population of about 1200 with an active community and good everyday facilities which include an excellent shop and popular Treloar Arms pub, CJ's Sanctuary restaurant, Anglican church, numerous clubs, societies and a bus service. There is a lovely walk leading on from Trelil Lane, which is a bridleway, through the countryside to Maenporth beach and the southwest coastal path. Falmouth town and harbourside is about 2.7 miles away and has an eclectic mixture of national shops and independents, together with galleries showcasing local arts and crafts, as well as great places to eat and drink.
