

Wallingford Avenue,

North Kensington, W10 6PZ

£3,200,000

Tucked away on leafy Wallingford Avenue, this Edwardian home has been reimagined with both sensitivity and bold intent. A striking basement extension and a sweeping curved wall of glass connect a sleek kitchen to the landscaped garden, creating a seamless flow between indoors and out.

The house strikes a rare balance between heritage and modern living — grand rooms for entertaining alongside adaptable spaces for family life. The double reception honours original proportions, while the open-plan kitchen and dining area anchor the rear of the home.

Below, the basement delivers more than just extra space: a cosy snug for film nights, a guest suite, utility, sauna and additional WC, all immaculately executed. Upstairs, three well-sized bedrooms, two bathrooms and a study complete the flexible layout. Every detail has been carefully thought through, making this a house as practical as it is beautiful.

Wallingford Avenue sits within the sought-after St Quintin Conservation Area, a quiet street framed by trees between St Quintin Avenue and Oxford Gardens. Village-like St Helens Gardens is moments away for daily essentials, with Ladbroke Grove and Latimer Road stations putting the rest of London within easy reach.
